APPOINTMENTS.

Frank W. Palmer, of Illinois,
Chosen for Public Printer.

TWO CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONERS
ALSO NAMED.

Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, and Hugh S. Thompson, of South Carolina, the Successful Gentlemen—Biographical Sketches of the Trio—Other News of National Interest.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The president Tuesday evening appointed Frank W. Palmer, of Illinois, to be public printer. Mr. Palmer was born in Manchester, Dearborn county, Ind., on October 11, 1837, and at the age of 15 was apprenticed to learn the printing trade. He first worked as a journeyman in New York city, and then removed to Jamestown, N. Y., where for ten years he was the publisher and editor of The Jamestown Journal. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1853 and 1854.

In 1855 he removed to Iowa and became editor and part owner of The Dubuque Times. In 1860 he was elected state printer, holding the office eight years. While at Des Moines as state printer he secured control of The State Register, the paper now owned by First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson. In 1868 he was elected a representative from Iowa to the Forty-first congress, and was re-elected to the Forty-second congress. After leaving congress Mr. Palmer sought an interest in The Chicago Inter Ocean, which had been started about a year or two previously, and he at once assumed an editorial relation with that paper.

He remained with The Inter Ocean until he was appointed postmaster of Chicago by President Hayes, which position he filled during the administrations of Garfield and Arthur. President Cleveland appointing his successor on the expiration of his term of office. Since relinquishing the postmastership he has been engaged in editorial work on various papers, among them The Chicago Herald. Mr. Palmer was not a candidate for the place, and the only letters on file at the White House in connection with his appointment are commendations sent in voluntarily since his name was publicly mentioned. He is a practical printer, and is also a book-binder.

Civil Service Commissioners.
The president also appointed Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, and Hugh S. Thompson, of South Carolina, to be civil service commissioners.

Mr. Roosevelt is a well-known member of the Roosevelt family of New York, and has taken an active part in the politics of that state. He was one of the delegates at large to the Republican convention at Chicago in 1864, and was the Republican candidate for mayor of New York City at the election preceding the last mayoralty contest, running against Abraham S. Hewitt and Henry George.

He has been a decided civil service reformer all his life, and while in the state senate of New York secured the passage of what is known as the Roosevelt reform bill. He is a man of literary tastes, and has written a number of magazine articles descriptive of life upon the large ranch which he owns in Montana. He is about 30 years of age, and is a quick, nervous and energetic worker. He is not now in Washington, but was here in consultation with the president before he accepted the appointment.

Mr. Thompson is the well known assistant secretary of the treasury from South Carolina, appointed by President Cleveland. He was born in Charleston, S. C., and is about 50 years of age. He was educated at the University of South Carolina, and after he was graduated therefrom, studied and practiced law for some time in Columbia, the capital of the state.

HUGH S. THOMPSON. He was elected governor of the state, which office he resigned to accept the assistant secretaryship of the treasury.

He was one of the most popular of the appointees of the late administration, and President Cleveland in February last sent in his nomination to the senate for the office to which he was this evening appointed, but it was not confirmed.

Earning Their Wages.
WASHINGTON, May 9.—As Secretary Rusk sat at his desk Monday afternoon, his gaze fell upon the workmen engaged in moving the first crop of grass on the grounds of the agricultural department. Something in their movements did not satisfy his eye, and turning to Chief Clerk Rockwood, he said: "I'd like to go out there and give those fellows points."

"You'd better turn that over to me," responded Maj. Rockwood. "I can mow it around you."

"Not much," replied the secretary, "as the boys say 'you ain't built that way.'"

Tuesday morning as they rode up the avenue to the department, billowing the sight of the mowers alongside brought to mind Monday's banter, and without a word the secretary and chief clerk leaped from the carriage to the lawn, and, each grabbing a scythe from the astonished laborers, began to swing them in the most approved style. The tall form of the secretary moved rapidly along a wide swath amid the plaudits of an admiring crowd attracted by the unusual spectacle, while Maj. Rockwood more modestly mowed his own in the contest; but he did not make good his boast of mowing all around the secretary. In fact, the latter demonstrated his staying qualities by going to the department after finishing his stint and cutting off a few heads with the official guillotine, while the major failed to show up at his desk at all during the day. It was explained that he had gone to Mount Vernon.

"The Line of Duty."
WASHINGTON, May 9.—Assistant Secretary Bussey has rendered an opinion of great importance, broadening former constructions in "the line of duty" cases. In this case, Mary E. McNeil, applied for a pension as the widow of Alexander McNeil, who, while engaged in a wrestling contest with a comrade in camp, received injuries which resulted in his death. The pension office rejected the claim, on the ground that McNeil was not in the line of duty at the time he sustained his injuries, but Mr. Bussey holds that he was, and lays down the broad principle that soldiers while at camp, while not disobeying orders or acting in violations, are always in the line of duty.

Railroad Building in Mexico.
WASHINGTON, May 9.—Secretary Blaine has received a further dispatch from the United States minister at the City of Mexico, dated April 23 last, in which he states that the work of construction on the Sonora, Sinaloa and Chihuahua railway was inaugurated on the 18th of that month in the presence of the president of the railway company, engineers, contractors, workmen, the general commanding the Mexican Federal forces on the coast, the Federal judge, the prefect of the district and many others. The point selected for the commencement of the work is about six miles from Guaymas on the Sonora railroad, near Batamotal Station.

An Ohio Crank.
WASHINGTON, May 9.—An Ohio crank stirred up the department of justice Tuesday. His name is John Smart and he hails from Bellville. He thinks he has power over the spirits of all soldiers killed in the war, but he cannot exercise his power until sworn into office by Chief Justice Fuller.

THE CITY OF PARIS.
Breaks the Record—Her Time Five Days, Twenty-Three Hours and Seven Minutes.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The human line steamer City of Paris, has broken the record. Her time from Queenstown to New York is computed to be 5 days, 23 hours, 7 minutes. Her fastest daily record was on May 7, when her log showed 511 miles. The Commander Etruria's best time is 6 days, 1 hour, 55 minutes.

NEW FIREARM INVENTION.
The Latest is a Cartridge That Explodes and Then Disappears.

PARIS, May 9.—The improvement of firearms still goes on. Only God knows when and where the ingenuity of man will find a limit to its invention of instruments for the destruction of human life.

There are many young men who can remember when the sportsman used to carry his shot-pouch on one side and his powder-horn on the other. The soldier was no better equipped. At every charge it was necessary to load with powder and ball and cap—an easy matter with an enemy advancing at the double quick.

It was considered a great improvement when the powder was prepared for use in a paper bag, so that the powder-horn could be dispensed with, and the soldier only had to bite off the end of the bag. After a while powder and ball were packed together, and when the fulmination cap was made part of the cartridge, it seemed as if, in this matter, perfection had been gained.

But not at all. The shell of the cartridge is still in nuisance, and a new shell has been invented. It is made of an organic substance so light as greatly to reduce the weight of the soldier's cartridge—no slight advantage on a long march. It is as thin as a piece of paper, and yet it is as firm as copper; and, best of all, it is so inflammable that when the gun is discharged not a vestige of the cartridge remains even in the form of dirt in the barrel of the weapon.

The new arms are still further improved by the adoption of a new material for the ball. Lead is heavy, but its penetrating power is comparatively small. The new cartridge is of a lighter and more penetrating material, which will pierce solid timbers to a distance of one foot, and will pass through a plate of iron two inches thick. The French government is taking great pains to keep the secret of all these military advantages in the make of its small arms; but it is very doubtful whether the Prussians have not already bought the precious secret for a very small sum.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY.
Three of Them Enter a Bank in Broad Daylight and Secure $4,500.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 9.—Frazer & McDonald's bank at Forest City, twenty miles north of here, was entered by three masked men Tuesday afternoon and robbed of $4,500. The robbers wore long overcoats, closely buttoned, and slouch hats. They walked into the front door of the building, where they met the president, O. E. Weber, talking to a farmer. Both were commanded to keep quiet, and were covered by revolvers. The third thief covered the cashier, and producing a sack, forced the cashier to open the safe and pour the contents into it. The robbers then backed out of the door.

Fifteen men on horseback immediately armed themselves and started in pursuit. About three miles out of town, in the brush along the river, they caught sight of the robbers and opened fire. It was returned by the robbers, but no one was hurt, and in the chase that followed the robbers escaped.

KANSAS CYCLONE.

A Funnel-Shaped Cloud Swoops
Down on Stafford County.

ITS PATH MARKED WITH DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

The Awful Ending of a Wind Storm of Several Days' Duration—Partial List of the Casualties—Dakota Reports a Shower of Frogs—Heavy Winds Cause a Wreck on the St. Paul Road.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., May 9.—The wind storm which has been raging over Kansas for several days past, culminated in a destructive cyclone in the eastern part of Stafford county Monday night. The district visited was but sparsely settled. Had it been otherwise the loss of life and property would have been something terrible. As it is there is scarcely a vestige of farm improvement remaining. Houses and barns were demolished, trees torn up by the roots, and in many places growing crops literally blown out of the ground. Last Saturday the wind began blowing a gale from the south. This continued to increase in velocity throughout Sunday and Sunday night, and by Monday it had become a hurricane.

The air was filled with dust and sand which at times would obscure the sun. Late in the afternoon on Monday the sky became thick with black clouds, and the deep-toned thunder and frightful flashes of lightning indicated the appearance of some kind of a storm of unusual severity. At times the wind would lull as if to gain strength and then break forth with renewed fury. It was after one of these momentary cessations that the funnel-shaped cloud came dipping its remorseless tail to the earth, and obliterating whatever obstructions lay in its path. On it came drowning in its roar the peals of thunder, and blinding by its darkness the forked flashes of the lightning.

Men and women who witnessed the oncoming tornado were paralyzed by its awful terrors, while horses and cattle piteously neighed and lowed as they seemed to fully realize their impending doom. This was in the gathering shades of night, but the moon shone through the rifts in the clouds and added a weird scene to the approach of the cyclone.

The path of the storm lay through Stafford county, extending from the southwest to the northeast, slightly east of the center of the county.

The first building struck was the farm house of William Slade, six miles south of the town of Stafford. The house was swept away and hardly a splinter of it left. The family were considerably bruised, but none have died.

The next building to succumb was the home of Al. Ginnup. Both the house and barn are gone.

Mrs. A. Potter, a widow, had her house and stable blown away, but the family escaped uninjured.

The next house in the pathway of the cyclone was that of Mrs. Lindsay, who lived with her two step children, Maud and William Blue. The house was torn to pieces, and Mrs. Lindsay so injured that she can scarcely recover.

George Davis' house was demolished, and his little girl fatally injured. S. S. Crawford's residence was blown away, and his son William was killed outright. J. B. C. Cook's large cattle shed was destroyed, as were J. W. Burns'. Both lost heavily.

J. Love's house is a thing of the past, and his wife was blown fifty feet north of the house into a wagon, to which she clung. It carried her 100 yards further. The spokes in the wheels were either blown out or knocked out by flying timbers. When found Mrs. Love was clinging to the tongue of the wagon. She is so injured that the physicians say there is no hope of recovery.

The storm seemed to have gained more force when it reached John Bartlett's house, which is south and east of Stafford. His house was carried away. His wife was blown 100 yards, and a toy rake blew on her breaking her shoulder blade and her nose, and putting out one eye and injuring her internally. His oldest boy was thrown thirty feet and landed on his head. The three youngest children were thrown 100 feet into a pile of corn stalks and were severely bruised.

The casualties so far as known are:

William Bolt, fatally injured.

Olive Boyd, hurt so that he cannot recover.

Jason Beard, internally injured; will die.

A. F. Ginnup, internally injured.

S. S. Crawford, fatally injured.

Mrs. J. Love, seriously injured.

Peter Scarlet, leg broken.

Mrs. John Bartlett, shoulder blade broken and other injuries; will die.

William McVey, internally injured; cannot recover.

Joseph Ferris, injured about the head. He will die.

SIoux FALLS, Dak., May 9.—One of the heaviest and steadiest winds ever known in this section prevailed Monday and Tuesday night, culminating in rain about midnight. The wind blew a box-car from the side track onto the main track of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road at Dell Rapids. A freight train running at full speed struck the car and the entire train and locomotive were wrecked. Fred Smith, a brakeman, was instantly killed. Several others, including passengers, escaped with bruises.

Three Babies Turned to Death.
HUNTINGBURG, Ind., May 9.—Mrs. C. Witman, of Hill Hall, left her three little children alone a few minutes Tuesday. The house caught fire and burned to the ground. The two youngest children were cremated and the oldest fearfully burned. The mother has gone insane.

PLANTATIONS IN SAMOA.

What is Raised—Where the Germans Obtain Their Labor.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Mr. Sewall, the American consul general at Apia, says that the German plantations in Samoa comprise the greater part of the cultivated land on the north side of the island of Upolu. The total area of these plantations is 9,260 acres; they have been laid out with great care, and in beauty of scenery and rich fertility the views among them can not be surpassed.

They are capable of producing anything that will grow in the tropics. They are mainly planted with coconuts for the production of copra, the dried kernel of the nut. The annual production of this is between 500 and 600 tons. After clearing cotton is planted, and this is grown for three years; then coconuts are planted and grass is sown, and until the trees are large enough to allow cattle to run among them some cotton is still gathered. After six years cattle are admitted, for by this time the trees have grown so that cattle cannot injure them. The seventh year the trees begin to bear, and at fifteen years after planting they attain their prime.

The grass grows luxuriantly in Samoa, for drouth is unknown there, and cattle feed among the coconut trees rich feeding ground. On the two largest plantations there are 1,000 head of cattle. There are also some fine horses. Next to coconuts and cotton coffee is the most important product. It is of excellent quality, rivaling the finest Mocha.

These plantations are worked by imported labor, for the Samoans will not work. This labor is recruited chiefly from the islands to the west of Samoa, the New Hebrides, Solomon, New Britain and New Ireland islands; also from Ellice and Gilbert islands, to the north.

As a rule, the labor trade is humanely conducted by the German labor vessels, yet it is not wholly robbed of its horrors. The laborers are under contract for three years' service, at the expiration of which time they are to be returned to their homes. This, however, is sometimes not done, and the unfortunate people are landed among a hostile tribe, who speedily kill or enslave them.

Men, women and children are recruited at wages of $3 a month, paid in trade. They are well housed, and are fed on rice, biscuits and yams. Their hours for work are regular, and Sunday is a holiday. There are about 750 of them on different plantations.

PROBABLE FATAL FALL.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 9.—At 2:15 p. m. Tuesday three men were badly hurt in testing a passenger elevator built by L. S. Graves & Son, of Rochester. The elevator was cut loose and allowed to fall five stories, sixty-five feet to an air-tight vault which was supposed, would break the fall so gradually as to insure the safety of the passengers.

Superintendent of Construction A. C. Cornell, Mr. Jones, the manager, and Jacob Rosenfeld, a reporter, were in the elevator which, when released, fell with fearful velocity. When it reached the bottom the three men were lying on the floor of the car insensible with their heads cut open. All suffered severe spinal shocks.

Mr. Jones died from his injuries during the evening. He was the New England agent of the elevator firm of L. S. Graves & Company, of Rochester, and leaves a wife in Boston. A. C. Cornell, superintendent of construction, will probably recover. He is also from Boston. Rosenfeld, the reporter who was one of the three men who went down with the elevator is badly cut, but his injuries are not serious.

SULLIVAN TO THE RESCUE.

He Assists Railroad Detectives in Arresting an Offender on a Train.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 9.—A fight occurred Monday night on a train near Dobb Ferry, between railroad detectives and train men one the one side and a gang of toughs on the other.

A crowd who had attended the Sullivan-Ashton sparring match at Tarrytown were on the train, and a local prize fighter named Doris refused to pay his fine. Several detectives had been detailed to accompany the train in anticipation of trouble, and they attempted to arrest Doris, whose friends came to his rescue. In the fight which followed several of the crowd were knocked down, among them Jack Hopper, the light-weight pugilist. In the midst of the row John L. Sullivan came to the assistance of the officers, and Doris was overpowered. He was taken to Pikesville, where he was Tuesday sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the penitentiary. He had been out of the penitentiary only a week.

A Tennessee County's Baby Crop.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 9.—Union county, this state, is to the front in the baby producing business. During the past week six women have given birth to fifteen children, a colored woman named Walker having four; Mrs. Joe Kitts gave birth to three; Mesdames James Vandegriff, Bud Oxendine, Charles Newton and Mrs. Ellen Tanner claim twins each. All the children are alive and doing well, and all reports are not yet in.

Niagara's New Bridge Opened.

NIAGARA FALLS, May 9.—The new suspension bridge, to replace the one carried away by a cyclone last winter was opened for travel this morning. The bridge, which was commenced March 21, 1,300 feet long, 17 feet wide, and 197 feet above water. It was built by the Rochester bridge and iron works.

The Heaviest Rain for Years.

PIERRE, Dak., May 9.—Twelve hours of steady rain, the heaviest for years, visited central Dakota Tuesday. In the present condition of crops it insures a good yield of grain all over the country visited by it.

Crazed by His Mother's Death.

NEW YORK, May 9.—James Wright, aged 26, son of a wealthy jeweler, jumped from the roof of a boarding house Tuesday night and was killed. He had been partly demented since his mother's recent death.

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1889.

GOVERNOR WEST can now come East. The Republican administration thinks he has been in Utah long enough.

THE Republicans of this county will meet at the court house next Monday to select delegates to their State convention.

DR. JOHN FRAZER, one of the most reliable, sober and honorable citizens of Mason County will represent that county in the Kentucky Legislature next winter. A hundred like him would be a credit to the State.—Carlsle Mercury.

GOVERNOR CALED WEST, of Utah, is another good Kentucky Democrat who has been "relieved" by President Harrison. Like many others who have been living on "pie," the Governor wants another "slice" and wouldn't decline a place on the Utah Mission. It pays $6,000 a year.

DR. T. S. CLARK, of Vanceburg, and Dr. Wm. Bowman, of Tollesboro, have been appointed pension examiners at Vanceburg. Dr. Bowman wanted the Peruvian Mission at the start, and he will surprise his friends if he accepts a little office like that to which he has been appointed. What a fall was there—from Minister to Peru to pension examiner!

THE True American notes as a fact in reference to the Centennial that "Grover Cleveland made the best speech in response to the toasts; that the applause given him while in the procession was greater than that given to any other man, and that the reception given to him and his wife at the banquet was as near an ovation as anything that occurred during the whole proceedings." All this is significant and of course very gratifying to his admirers throughout the land. Though he no longer occupies the White House he has a warmer place in the hearts of the people than the man who succeeded him as President.

It is a noteworthy fact, previously commented on in this paper, that Harrison's Secretary of the Treasury has adopted the policy pursued by Cleveland's administration in reference to the purchase of bonds and depositing some of the surplus in national banks. And all this notwithstanding this very policy was condemned by Mr. James G. Blaine, and was used as his main argument against the Democrats in financial circles, during the campaign last fall. It was a terrible thing then, in Blaine's mind, to deposit any of the surplus in national banks—it was being done by Democrats then. And what do we see now? At the end of the first month of Harrison's administration, these identical banks, or some of the same sort, held five or six million dollars more of the surplus than they did when Cleveland retired.

The Philadelphia Record says: "If there happened to be any feasible and economical mode of departure from the treasury management of the Cleveland administration there is no doubt that Secretary Windom would adopt it; but there is none. To take the surplus money out of the national bank depositories and to employ it in paying the present high rates of premium to bondholders would be a great wrong to the masses of the people not only, but might be followed by serious financial mischiefs. In this situation Secretary Windom prefers the public interests to any paltry considerations of party consistency."

If Mr. Blaine was sincere last fall in his denunciations of Cleveland's administration, it is about time he was jumping on Secretary Windom.

That Lewis County Convention.
The official proceedings of the late Democratic convention at Vanceburg have been received. After the appointment of delegates, the Times says the committee reported the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Democracy of Lewis County, recognizing the high standing and true Democracy of our honored citizen George T. Halbert, are heartily in favor of him for State Senator, and therefore recommend that he receive the support of the Democracy of Lewis County before the district convention to be held at Maysville May 14th.

Mr. Halbert, in an eloquent speech, declined the honor, when the following additional resolutions were read and adopted by the convention:

Resolved, That the delegates this day appointed to represent this (Lewis) county in the Senate district convention to be held at Maysville, Ky., May 14, 1889, be, and are hereby, instructed to cast the vote of said county in said district convention for Charles B. Poyntz for State Senator, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination and election.

Entitled to the Best.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to clean the system when constive or bilious. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Stock, Field and Farm.
The Stanford Interior says: "A. T. Nunnally has bought so far 15,000 pounds of wool at 15 to 25 cents."

Tobacco acreage in Central Missouri this year will be the smallest since the State was admitted into the Union.

The Georgetown, Ky., News says tobacco plants are scarce in Scott County and that the oats crop will be short.

The Ripley Bee says Frank J. Kilpatrick, of the Brown County Stock Farm, has bought Wilkes Meddum, claimed to be Alcyone's best bred son.

Ripley Bee: "The dry weather is cutting short the tobacco beds, and the outlook for a good crop is very poor. A good deal of land intended for tobacco has been planted in corn, and more will be put if rain does not come soon."

The Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State convention met at Louisville yesterday at noon. There was a large attendance, all things considered.

A temporary organization was effected by the election of Congressman McCreary, of Madison County, for Chairman, and James E. Stone, of Breckinridge, for Secretary, after which the convention adjourned till night.

A lively fight was expected for permanent Chairman, the contestants being Congressman McCreary and the Hon. W. J. Stone, of Daviess County. The result has not been learned.

A BASHFUL looking couple and a very "green" one at that, came in on the K. C. morning train a few days since and after strolling about town for awhile crossed the river and were married by Squire Beasley. Returning to Maysville, they spent the afternoon wandering about town. Late in the evening they wandered into the St. Charles Hotel, where the bashful groom registered "Edmon King, wife." No place of residence was given. They "weren't hungry and didn't want supper." They asked to be called in time to take the train for home next morning and were very much afraid they'd get left. The train leaves about 6:30. At 4 o'clock the couple appeared in the office. Night clerk Lartey told them they needn't be in a hurry, there was plenty time. They wouldn't run the risk of getting left, however, and hurried off to the depot at once without waiting for breakfast. If they had far to go, they were a hungry couple when they reached home.

Personal.

Bait for the Press Boys.

[Owensboro Messenger.]

We have no boasts to make of what we shall invite the attention of the Press Association to next month, except the quality of good looks in the female line of this community. It is the habit of every village newspaper to brag of the pretty girls in its town. We are too dangerously near the investigation to make an idle claim, but we confidently assert that we will marshal before the editorial brethren the grandest aggregation of good-looking young women they ever beheld in a city of any size. Owensboro was never so fortunate in this particular as now. And the best part of all this is, every bachelor newspaper man shall have one to keep as his own, if he can get her.

AN OFT TOLD STORY.

How a Country "Sucker" Was Landed By Some New York Sharpers

An oft told tale was unfolded in the Probate Court of Adams County, Ohio, a few days since.

It was told by Ellis Roush. Roush was once a merchant at North Liberty, but it seems he became dissatisfied with his line of business and longed for a quicker way of getting rich.

In an evil hour he listened to the tempter. As a consequence he is not engaged in business just now, and a trustee is winding up his mercantile affairs. In other words he has made an assignment.

The tempter came to him in the shape of a gang of "green goods" men. They hailed from New York. A "circular" from their "office" in the metropolis of the country happened to fall into Roush's hands.

They weren't fishing for Roush, or any one in particular, but he bit at the bait and they landed him.

In the Adams County Probate Court the other day he told how it all happened. He answered their circular. They promised to furnish him $10,000 in "good money" for only $1,000 cash. Such a proposition ought to have put any man of common sense on his guard, but it seems Roush wasn't blessed with an over-supply of that article. Negotiations were continued. He met them in the city, and put up his cash for the contents of a satchel that was given him. The "grip" was placed in a bureau drawer until the business was concluded in the middle of the room. During the interval, a confederate in another room reached through a hole in the wall and the back of the bureau and substituted another grip exactly like the first. This Mr. Roush carried off with him. He was so elated with his "bargain" that he never stopped to examine the satchel. On opening it at the hotel to take a look at his new wealth, he found a package of brown paper.

Railway News.

F. E. Janowitz has been relieved of his position as agent of the C. & O. at South Ripley. His successor is E. M. Farrell.

Track-laying on the Kentucky Midland will be completed between Georgetown and Frankfurt about the 20th of this month.

This week the Pennsylvania road will place orders for 150 passenger coaches and 2,000 freight cars. As the equipment is to be used east of Pittsburg, Eastern manufacturers will be likely to get the contract.

The employees' insurance system will go in effect on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg July 1, and it is believed that over 10,000 men will join at once. No physical examination will be required, and the company will guarantee all the benefits.

The Ripley Bee says: "The railroad has been finely rock-balled lately from South Ripley to Lawrence Creek and the bad places in that stretch are now put in good order again. It is thought that the settling and sliding of embankments is about over."

The three new passenger trains recently finished for the C. & O. by the Pullmans have been delivered. They are said to be the most complete ever turned out by the Pullman works. They are painted yellow, President Ingalls' favorite color. Each train consists of a postal-car, a baggage and smoking-car combined, a day coach, a ladies' coach and a chair-car. They will be put on the road next Sunday.

Base Ball.

The BULLETIN is asked to announce that the first game of the season will be played next Saturday afternoon in the bottom near the K. C. depot. A nine styling themselves the "Athletics," picked from this city, will cross bats with the "Kentons," of Covington. The latter club is said to have a fairly won reputation in base ball circles. The club that will oppose them has been secured from the best talent afforded in Maysville and the suburbs, so a good game may be expected. Game called promptly at 3 p. m.

AN inventory and appraisement and a sale bill of the personal estate of Ben Yancy, colored, deceased, have been filed for record in the County Clerk's office.

SAMUEL FILSON, a pension attorney, died very suddenly last evening at his home in the Fifth ward. He had been complaining for a few days, and about two o'clock yesterday afternoon grew much worse and sank rapidly from that on. Several physicians were called in but could do no good. His death is attributed to cerebral hemorrhage. He leaves a large family.

ANDREW MILLER and Lucy Turner, and James Bell and Lizzie Coleman, colored couples, have been granted marriage license.

W. T. Cole's heirs, by A. M. J. Cochran, commissioner, have conveyed about seventy-six acres of land near Shannon to J. W. Clary and Nancy B. Clary for $4,545.

MAY 31st is the date of the commencement of the Ripley High School. The 7 pupils who will graduate are all young ladies. What's the matter with the Ripley boys?

JOHN W. OVERBY and Miss Courtney Sims, of Mt. Olivet, were married at Alderdeen early this morning. They were accompanied by John Sims and Miss Sallie McCracken.

MISS EMMA MCKRELL was married a few days since at Cincinnati to Hon. Geo. M. Ballard, a prominent young lawyer of Anderson, Ind. The bride is a sister of Mr. M. B. McKrell, the Sutton street drygoods merchant.

MISS ELLEN BUCKLEY died Tuesday at her home near Mill Creek. She was seventy-two years old. Seven children survive her. Her remains were interred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the cemetery at Washington.

A division of the Uniform Rank, K. of P., will be instituted at Huntington, W. Va., on the 16th of this month. Maysville Division No. 6 will take part in the exercises. Special rates have been secured from the White Collar line and the Knights will go up on the steamer Telegraph.

THERE may be better goods for sale than those Ballenger, the jeweler, offers, but they are not to be found in Maysville. His gold and silver watches are the best manufactured, and are correct time-keepers. If you intend buying anything in the jewelry line you will regret it if you don't call on Ballenger.

SAYS the Danville Advocate: "The stakes of the Maysville Fair Association closed with more nominations than any of the other members of the Blue Grass Circuit. In three stakes there were 90 nominations, the yearling stake closing with twenty-four, two-year-old, thirty-nine and three-year-old twenty-seven. The added money was just double that offered by any of the other members of the Circuit, and to this Maysville is undoubtedly indebted for her large number of entries."

ABOUT two hundred and fifty people took in the recent excursion over the C. and O. to Cincinnati, given by the German Pioneers of Ripley. The Bee says: "The engineer of the train returning ran past South Ripley and carried the tired party nearly to Lawrence Creek before he could be halted. He was new to the road, it is said, and depended on the conductor to give him the proper tip for stopping, but the bell rope broke when pulled, and a man had to climb out to the engine to carry the word."

DR. JAMES SHACKLEFORD and County Clerk Ball have sold to Messrs. E. A. Robinson and Harry Taylor the business house occupied by them opposite the State National Bank, for $12,000. The property adjoining Mr. Taylor's and occupied by Mr. S. B. Oldham and 'Square Vicroy has also been sold by Messrs. Ball and Shackelford, the price being $6,000, but the name of the buyer has not been made public. Messrs. Taylor and Robinson contemplate improving the property they bought.

THE Presbytery of Ebenezer met at Carlisle this week to consider the call from the First Presbyterian Church, Selma, Ala., for the pastoral services of Rev. Russell Cecil, of this city. The Selma church was represented by W. R. Nelson and S. D. Holt; the church here by C. W. Darnall and H. C. Sharp. After hearing all parties, the Presbytery placed the call in the hands of Mr. Cecil, and he having signified his acceptance, his pastoral relation to the Central Presbyterian Church was declared dissolved. He will unite with the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa.

THE Times says: "The Deposit Bank of Vanceburg has purchased a safe at Cincinnati, built on a new plan. The door is put in just like a screw in such a manner as to prevent its turning. There is no possible chance to work dynamite or powder on this safe, and its walls are solid and of such thickness that it could not be drilled by any burglar tool in less than 24 hours. This safe is a new invention recently patented, but is fast taking the place of all other safes made. It is conceded by all banking men as the only burglar proof safe in existence. The one purchased for the bank here cost $1,500, and has a capacity that will probably hold all the currency necessary, but not the papers and books."

THE ROTHCHILDS

And Likewise the Bank of France and Baron Hirsch

WILL LONG HAVE REASON TO REGRET THEIR POLICY

In Refusing to Co-Operate with the Americans Representing the Copper Syndicate—Barling Brothers Have Also Suffered—Our Samoan Commissioners Meet Bismarck—Foreign.

LONDON, May 9.—The events of the past week have convinced, against their will, the high financiers of Europe that henceforward in delicate and complicated operations it will be impossible to ignore such a potent factor as the interest of the United States in such matters.

The bank of France, Baron Hirsch and the Rothschilds will long have reason to regret their folly in refusing to co-operate with the Americans representing the copper syndicate. Messrs. Haggin, Livermore and the others freely expressed in London their disgust at the haughty manner assumed by the European money kings, and do not profess any great sorrow for the inevitable losses which will ensue to them from inability to comprehend the fact that they are no longer omnipotent in all affairs of the highest moment.

No Longer Watched With Interest. The time is past when the course taken by the Rothschilds in any operation was watched with feverish eagerness on every exchange in Europe. They are so engrossed with their position as titled aristocrats that they look upon their business connections as necessary evils and leave the details of their transaction to trained subordinates.

Their Downfall Prophesied. Orthodox Hebrews do not hesitate to prophesy their downfall as a just retribution for their indifference to the faith of their forefathers, their abandonment of many Jewish customs, and above all their intermarrying with Christians. Their losses this year have been very heavy, not only in the copper corner, but in their Moroccan mines, the working of which has been interrupted by a determined strike, accompanied by much violence, the effects of which will be felt for a long time.

Barling Brothers Also Suffer. The reputation of Barling Brothers has also suffered by their entanglement in the copper fiasco, and they, too, will in future estimate at a higher rate American capacity and command of capital. Their losses would have been comparatively trifling had they heeded the disinterested advice given by New York advisors.

Socialists Make the Best of It. Of course such disarrangements and business disturbances are made the most of by Socialistic agitators, who see in the combinations of the wealthy the cause producing the misery of the many.

How Henry George Consales Himself. Henry George consales himself for the indifference of the masses in the United States by the attention which he has received in Great Britain, where the halls have proved too small to hold his audiences, and the authorities in some of the towns in which he has lectured have not concealed their uneasiness at the proportions assumed by the crowds which have flocked to see him.

Presented to Bismarck. BERLIN, May 9.—Messrs. Kasson, Phelps and Bates and Lieutenants Buckingham and Parker went Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Prince Bismarck's and were introduced by Count Herbert. The prince was extremely cordial, and spoke in English. He said he was glad the conference was progressing so favorably. He hoped they would soon bring their labors to a successful close.

Prince Bismarck spoke to the commissioners in English. His manner was very affable. He said he was glad to hear of the progress made by the conference. The visit lasted half an hour.

The Conference. At the Samoan conference the details of the coming changes in Samoa are being debated at length, but no differences as to the principle now exist. All the delegates desire the neutrality of the islands. The Americans have achieved marked success, and have impressed Prince Bismarck with their firmness and diplomacy.

Concessions from Persia. ST. PETERSBURG, May 9.—It is generally understood in financial circles that Baron Reuter has obtained concessions from the National bank of Persia for power to issue bank notes for twice the amount of the bank's capital, and which are to be a legal tender of the country. The concession has also been granted Baron Reuter to work coal and other mines. Another report current here says that these concessions are granted as a compromise for the Russian government to work and build railways.

Carnot Congratulated. PARIS, May 9.—Most of the European sovereigns, either directly or through agents, have congratulated President Carnot upon his escape from assassination. Perrin, who fired at the president, has engaged M. Laguerre to defend him at the trial. From this the inference is drawn that the prisoner is a Boulangerist.

The Turnstiles at Paris. PARIS, May 9.—Twenty-five thousand persons visited the exposition Monday. During the opening ceremonies the police arrested three men for shouting "Vive Boulanger." The evening festivities in celebration of the opening of the exposition passed off without a hitch.

Conflict with Strikers. BERLIN, May 9.—A conflict has taken place at Essen between the striking miners and the military. Three strikers were killed and five wounded. Serious consequences are feared.

Count Tolstol Dead. ST. PETERSBURG, May 9.—Count Tolstol, minister of the interior, who has been ill for some time, is dead.

Chicago's Farewell to Lincoln. CHICAGO, May 9.—Robert T. Lincoln, the newly appointed American minister to England, was given a farewell banquet at the Union League club Tuesday night. Five hundred gentlemen were present. There was no formal speech-making. Mr. Lincoln, in a few words of reply to the congratulations of those present, said he hoped to discharge the duties of his mission in such a manner as would merit the commendation of his countrymen and the government of the United States.
